PENTECOST 5

9th July 2017

CROESO : WELCOME

O God, the protector of all who trust in You, without whom nothing is strong, nothing is holy,
increase and multiply upon us Your mercy,
that You, being our ruler and guide,
we may so pass through the things of this world
that we finally lose not the things eternal.

Today's readings are on page 18

Zechariah 9: 9-12

News of a coming saviour - the expected Messiah

This prophecy is of the coming of a king, a great saviour who, although humble, will be victorious - who will be powerful yet will bring peace and freedom to the people. This is a foretelling of the coming of Jesus, the long - expected Messiah.

Romans 7: 15-25a

Inner struggles

Paul here writes clearly about the great inner struggles which he, and everyone who truly wants to be good, will find within themselves. Although wanting to be good, yet sin can overpower even the best intentions. Paul finds that sin is at war with his will but he gives thanks to God, declaring that Jesus Christ our Lord, is the one who can save us from our sin and guilt.

Matthew 11: 16-19, 25-30

Jesus' great invitation

With the authority His Father has given to Him, Jesus calls all people to come to Him. To any who are tired and carry heavy burdens He promises that He is gentle and that, in His way of life their burdens will be light and they will find rest for their souls - an invitation too good to refuse!
